To Have Or Not To Have Day School In Glades

The Belle Glade Civic Center was the scene last Thursday night of a meeting of Pahokee Day School Board of Trustees and others interested in the school.

The Board determined that a minimum of 75 students at a tuition of $700, payable June 15, 1967, $100, and $80 per month for ten months beginning August 1, 1967, was necessary to plan for the operation of the school for the year 1967-68.

In order to maintain eight grades separately, a minimum of 100 students, preferably 150 students are needed at a considerably smaller tuition fee.

Although those parents and friends attending the meeting in Belle Glade voted unanimously for the Board of Trustees to continue with plans to secure a permanent home for the school, the Board decided in view of the fact that only 58 students were enrolled in grades 1 through 8 at this meeting it will be impossible to continue this year.

Comptroller Will Supervise Protection Laws

Tallahassee—Comptroller of Florida Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., today pledged continued strict administration of the numerous consumer production laws supervised by the Comptroller's Office.

Speaking to members of the Tallahassee Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting, Comptroller Dickinson outlined the various consumer protection functions of his office and recited examples of investigative work of departments of the office which provided protection to the public.

Comptroller Dickinson told the group that state laws have assigned to him "a duty of trust, a commission of service to the people, carrying with it an essential charge to protect the citizenry while helping to provide the service which they demand and deserve."

Dickinson noted that his responsibilities in this broad area of consumer protection is "an obligation which will continue to be respected and strictly administered for the safeguarding of citizens against the few unscrupulous operators who continuously attempt to invade legitimate businesses."

Dickinson insisted that "the legal maxim of let the buyer beware" simply will not fill the bill in today's marketplace. You cannot expect the housewife or the man who does not have legal or other specialized training to cope with the intricacies of all the laws and contracts which he faces in the everyday affairs of life."

Dickinson outlined various consumer protection functions of the Comptroller's Office including re-

Ask For New Distribution Highway Funds

Tallahassee—The Legislature has completed action on a memorial calling on Congress and members of Florida's delegation to provide for the distribution of federal highway funds on an annual population estimate rather than the 10-year census.

Senator Jerry Thomas, D-Lake Park, who introduced the memorial said Florida already has lost an estimated $4,905,778 in highway funds from 1961 to 1965, and is expected to lose an estimated $6,000,000 during the five-year period ending in 1970.

Thomas said use of the ten-year census is unfair to a fast growing state like Florida which is expected to be eighth in population in 1970. The senator said Florida has had a 19.9 per cent growth in population since 1960 as compared with an estimated 7.68 per cent increase for the nation as a whole.

The memorial requests the Congress to have the annual population estimates of the Bureau of Census used in the formula as distribution of the funds. Copies will be sent to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House, as well as members of Florida's congressional delegation.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maxson, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Ollie Adams, spent the past weekend in Fort Lauderdale as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith.

May Sales Tax Little Higher Than Last Year

Tallahassee—Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson, Jr., Comptroller of Florida, today reported that sales and use tax collections for May totaled $25,917,023.

Dickinson said the revenue from the collections of the sales and use tax and the state's gasoline tax made slight gains over collections for the same month last year. Yet, Florida's wholesale sporting goods tax brought in 8.7 per cent less money than it did in May 1966, he added.

However, with one month remaining in the current fiscal year, Dickinson noted that collections from all of the three taxes are exceeding collections for a similar period during the previous 12-month fiscal year.

Last month's revenue in the major category of sales and use tax was up $590,545 or 2.3 per cent above May collections of 1966.

Fiscal year collections of the tax to date (July-May) total $276,171,162—an increase of $15.8 million or 6.1 per cent above total collections for a similar period during the 1965-66 fiscal year.

Gasoline taxes for May 1967, amounted to $14,478,094. This is an increase of $203,588 or 1.4 per cent above collections for the same month one year ago.

Fiscal year collections to date total in excess of $154.5 million, representing an increase of $8.2

million or 5.6 per cent above collections for a like period during the previous fiscal year.

During May of this year, the sporting good tax netted $138,166, which is a decrease of $13,000 below collections for the same month last year.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

4-H Clubs Hear Comptroller Bud Dickinson

Gainesville—Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., Comptroller of Florida, told the state's 4-H club that its greatest duty lies in "accepting the responsibilities of your citizenship and exercising its privileges."

Dickinson made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery to 600 young delegates attending the third annual state 4-H Club Congress here this week. The delegates are representing some 20,000 club members of rural and urban areas throughout the state.

In giving the keynote address, Dickinson challenged the youths to more fully develop their leadership abilities by learning and applying democratic values and citizenship responsibilities.

Dickinson urged the youths, when they leave the Congress, to "take what you have learned home with you. Use this knowledge to more fully develop yourselves and enrich your lives. Apply this information and help others to learn what you have learned. Inspire others to become good Americans. 'This is the challenge which is offered to each and every one of you by your country, your state, your community and your club.'"

Witnesses In Convention In WPB July 6-9

One of the largest conventions in the history of West Palm Beach is scheduled July 6-9 when over 6,500 Jehovah's Witnesses meet for a four-day district convention.

Jeân C. Rainbow, presiding minister of the Belle Glade Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said the convention will inaugurate the new West Palm Beach Auditorium. He said 36 delegates would represent the Belle Glade congregation at the annual South Florida seminar.

E. W. Hooper, convention manager, said in Orlando that separate sessions are planned for Spanish-speaking delegates at the Palm Beach Kennel Club. Approximately 600 persons are expected from Miami, Tampa and Key West.

The Witnesses last met in West Palm Beach in 1962. At that time, 5,000 delegates assembled at the Jai Alai Fronton.

Rainbow said construction delays on the new convention hall caused some anxious moments. "We are looking forward to holding our convention in this fine new facility," he said.

Hooper said another convention with the same theme, "Disciple-Making Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses," is scheduled in Orlando, August 17-20. Additional conventions of the religious group are planned in 46 States this summer. Others are scheduled in Canada, the British Isles and Europe.

Now— U. S. Savings Bonds Pay More Interest

4.15% when held to maturity

Higher interest on the Bonds you already own, too!

U.S. Savings Bonds are a better way to save than ever

Because now all Series E and Series H Bonds bought after December 1, 1965, will earn the new, higher interest rate of 4.15% when held to maturity. That's only 7 years for Series E—9 months quicker than before. All H Bond interest checks will be larger beginning in June 1966.

And your outstanding Bonds will earn more, too, from now on. So, you don't have to cash in your present Bonds to get the attractive new rate.

Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. For America's future. And yours.

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is provided as a public service in cooperation with the Treasury Department and The Advertising Council.

"Today, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines."

"Today, above all, is a time for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the spirit that animated the Minutemen of Concord—who serve as a symbol of the Savings Bond program. For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front lines of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines. We must all do our share—in every way we can—to support our men in Vietnam. One sure way is open to all Americans through the Savings Bond program."
